

PUBLIC SPECTACLE LA WEEKLY Arts & Culture Blog

TOP BLOG STORIES | | 10 L.A. Comedy Acts to Watch in 2014 | Art to See This Week By Catherine Winkler

Fashion

Paper Trails- Hope In The City's LA Weekly Dresses Punctuate Fashion Week

By Lina Lecaro Thu., Mar. 25 2010 at 10:57 PM Write Comment

Categories: Fashion

f Like Share 0 Tweet 0 Submit 0 Pocket 0 8-1 0

LA Fashion Week may be all over the place in terms of themes and scenes (read Gendy Alimurung's Box Eight coverage here and here, as well as our own Nightranger fashion fete reports here) but that's ultimately what makes it unique. You never know where you're going to go or what you're going to get. Wednesday night's Hope in the City runway event -put on by Mosaic- at Vibiana downtown was no exception. The opening portion of the show called "Paper Dresses" featured frocks made from recycled copies of -can you tell from the photos?- LA Weekly newspapers. Sure brings new meaning to the term "eco fashion," not to mention the prints or solids debate.

Now Trending

- Palm Springs Film Fest and '80s Classics: Your Weekly Movie To-Do List
 - 10 Things We Want to See at Fan Conventions in 2014
 - Sweethearts of the Galaxy*: It's More Than a Web Series about Cosplayers
- Stories | Conversations

Save up to 90% Daily.

VOUCHER DAILY DEALS
 VoiceDailyDeals.com
 View All Deals

Welcome to our backyard...

Around The Web

- The Crimes of Dean Corll Become a Movie Houston Press
- The Lower Depths looks at the