Breakfast of Champions: L.A. Weekly Pancake Breakfast

White

Anne Fishbein

LA Mill Coffee at the Pancake Breakfast.

Need a visual aid for your print edition? Jonathan Gold checks in on his own Pancake Breakfast. ("But if your concerns run toward waffles more than they do toward fjord-picked garlic shoots or lovingly nurtured nectarines, you may have been at the deconsecrated St. Vibiana's in downtown L.A., washed with brilliant light, where the L.A. Weekly Pancake Breakfast filled the former cathedral with long tablesful of cooks, hundreds of happy people and a fugue of griddle vapors that William James may well have included in his Varieties of Religious Experience.") Click through for Anne Fishbein's spectacular photos and read more in Gold's Counter Intelligence, "Breakfast of Champions."
